

Kenwood's Links for Math

AOL contains links to math games from several sources.

<http://kids.aol.com/homework-help/math>

AOL K-2 site with links targeting k-2.

<http://kids.aol.com/homework-help/junior/math>

BrainPop lets you watch the free math movies.

<http://www.brainpop.com/math/freemovies/>

Coolmath includes lessons and practice.

<http://www.coolmath4kids.com/>

Funbrain Math Arcade provides fun math activities.

<http://www.funbrain.com/brain/MathBrain/MathBrain.html>

Kaboose has 34 math games from counting and patterns to square roots.

<http://resources.kaboose.com/games/kid-math-games.html>

Math Playground includes math operations, algebra, percent, geometry, and money.

<http://www.mathplayground.com/games.html>

National Council of Teachers of Mathematics web activities are hands on.

<http://illuminations.nctm.org/ActivitySearch.aspx>

National Library of Virtual Manipulatives provides hands on math.

<http://nlvm.usu.edu/>

Numbertime has six math games to choose from

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/schools/numbertime/games/index.shtml>

Play Kids Games provides fact practice (for any operation) and other activities

<http://www.playkidsgames.com/mathGames.htm>

A Plus Math has games that reinforce

<http://www.aplusmath.com/games/>